

MODERN LANGUAGES & CIVILIZATIONS

The LACC Modern Languages & Civilizations Department is one of the largest and strongest language departments in Southern California.

Foreign language fluency is an essential skill in the 21st century. One should speak at least two or more languages to be considered globally minded. Not only is learning another language good for personal development, but it also gives students an advantage in many careers.

Our goal is to integrate foreign language and cultural education with technology. We want to deliver courses and information anywhere and anytime with the aid of technology.

Learning a language helps us overcome cultural and social barriers. We are an outstanding group of instructors whose life-long pursuit is to teach their students other languages, other cultures and civilizations.

Mission Statement

Los Angeles City College empowers students from the diverse communities it serves to achieve their educational and career goals by providing pathways to support their completion of associate degrees, certificates, transfer requirements, career and technical education, and foundational skills

The Japanese Associate of Arts degree is designed to prepare students to transfer to a university with a major in Japanese, Asian studies, or linguistics. Students develop competency in listening, comprehension, conversation, reading, writing, and culture which will benefit them in a wide variety of career paths and professional advancement.

The Japanese Language and Culture certificates of achievement give students the opportunity to document their skills in the Japanese language and the knowledge of Japanese culture. The certificate of achievement is evidence of the student's academic persistence and achievement in the language and cultural studies for employment, and professional advancement.
